: A TEMPORARY RESTRAINING
: ORDER

v.
DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS;
Jeffrey A. Beard, Secretary of Corrections, Respondent.

: Case No. 1: CV-00-0834

To the Honorable, Judge Caldwell, judge of the United States District Court, greetings:

Comes Now, the petitioner John Carter, who moves this Court pursuant to my right to redress protected under the FIRST AMENDMENT for a temporary restraining order against the above named Respondent, and all officers, agents, employers, and all other persons acting in concert or participation with them, for the following emergency circumstance:

1. That, on June 3, 2005, petitioner was physically attacked and assaulted by corrections officers: C/o LEE;
C/o Huber; C/o Snyder; C/o Kutila; C/o Pelter; C/o Britton; Lt.
Clause; and several other corrections officers whose names are unknown at the present time, in retaliation for filing

the pending action before this court at the above case number; these officers began punching and kicking the petitioner after he had been handcuffed to be removed from cell D2-22 by C/O Huber; these named officers then began threatening to beat petitioner again if petitioner continued his litigation; these same officers then slammed petitioner onto the cell floor and began kicking him while he continued to be handcuffed; at this point Lt. Clause ordered the officers to cease their assault because another C/O was near with a video camera; petitioner was then lifted from the floor and carried into an empty cell and slammed onto the metal bed frame; petitioner was then stripped of his clothes and left in the empty cell as of June 8, 2005.

2. that, petitioner has an inalienable right to safety protected under the Declaration of Independence, and Declaration of Rights encompassed in the Constitutions.

WHEREFORE, under the extraordinary circumstances, the petitioner demand that he be removed from the custody of the DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS immediately due to the threat and danger to his persons which has already been assaulted in retaliation.

I, petitioner John Carter, do hereby swear that the above facts are true and correct, and this verification is made subject to the penalty of perjury.

Date: 06/08/2005

Respectfully Submitted,

x John Carter
